the 1990s, the number of people in the UK with a mental health problem has increased by 50% (Mental Health Act 1983, 1990).

There is a growing awareness of the need to improve the lives of people with mental health problems. The Department of Health (1999) has set out a vision of a new mental health system, which will be based on the following principles:

- People with mental health problems should be treated as individuals, with their own needs and wishes.
- People with mental health problems should be given the opportunity to participate in decisions about their care and treatment.
- People with mental health problems should be given the opportunity to live in their own homes and communities.
- People with mental health problems should be given the opportunity to work and study.

The Department of Health (1999) has also set out a number of key objectives for the new mental health system:

- To reduce the number of people with mental health problems who are admitted to hospital.
- To improve the quality of care and treatment for people with mental health problems.
- To improve the support and services available to people with mental health problems.
- To improve the lives of people with mental health problems.

The Department of Health (1999) has also set out a number of key priorities for the new mental health system:

- To improve the quality of care and treatment for people with mental health problems.
- To improve the support and services available to people with mental health problems.
- To improve the lives of people with mental health problems.

The Department of Health (1999) has also set out a number of key challenges for the new mental health system:

- To improve the quality of care and treatment for people with mental health problems.
- To improve the support and services available to people with mental health problems.
- To improve the lives of people with mental health problems.

The Department of Health (1999) has also set out a number of key opportunities for the new mental health system:

- To improve the quality of care and treatment for people with mental health problems.
- To improve the support and services available to people with mental health problems.
- To improve the lives of people with mental health problems.

The Department of Health (1999) has also set out a number of key risks for the new mental health system:

- To improve the quality of care and treatment for people with mental health problems.
- To improve the support and services available to people with mental health problems.
- To improve the lives of people with mental health problems.

The Department of Health (1999) has also set out a number of key lessons for the new mental health system:

- To improve the quality of care and treatment for people with mental health problems.
- To improve the support and services available to people with mental health problems.
- To improve the lives of people with mental health problems.

In Memoriam

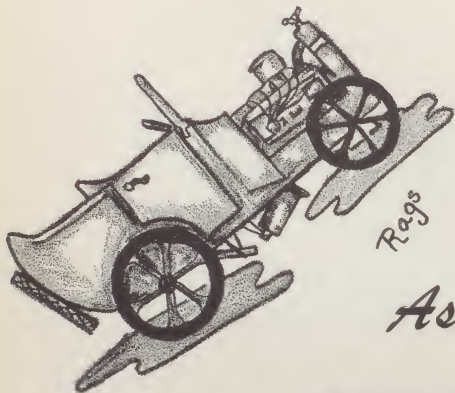

His personality expressed in our campus.

Carl Dyberg

Carl was a caretaker, a man who left a little bit of himself in every tree, and bush, and blade of grass around us. He left us, personally, but he will still be seen from time to time, tending the campus, carrying his keys. Carl, short and smiling, is still with us.

*Thru high school
in a teen-ager's hot-rod*

As we turn

The roar of exhaust, warm with hot gases of flaming motor . . . the hum of tires along the smooth pavement . . . Pleasant sounds.

Sounds we of the Coronad Staff want to capture for you between these covers, because they are a part of the happiness of Coronad High, a part of teen age life. Thus we turn our theme, not to sweet and poignant memories, but to the lighter side—to the fun of high school.

Let's start the motor . . .

Mrs. Marion Griswold, the first lady of the school.

the Ignition

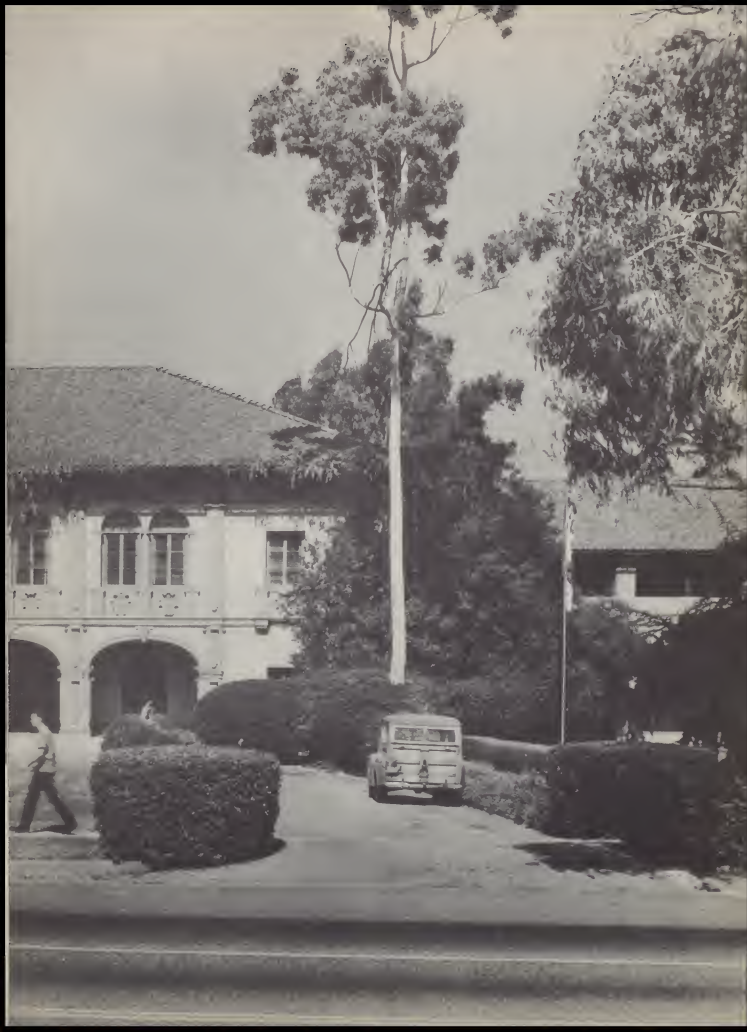

Here are two people who are vitally concerned with the welfare of the girls of Corona High. Here are two of the quietest most effective workers. Here are two who hold authority but never flaunt it. Here are two who are constantly behind us, directing us. These two are Mrs. Marion Griswold and Mrs. Lois Tait. We see them as representing a high standard of moral character on our faculty. We dedicate the 1952 Coronad to them, and all they stand for.

Mrs. Lois Tait, Girls' gym teacher.

We survey our map

*We note the highways
we travel*

And the busy Intersections of life

The green carpetry which upholsters our vehicle

Over all our campus

We travel a highway of peaceful contemplation . . .

. . . and wholesome fun

C. Finis Frazier, Corona High's principal and friend.

Our Drivers

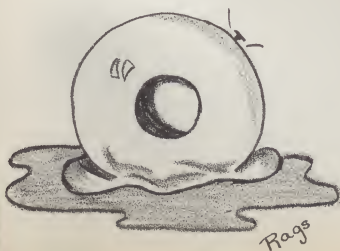

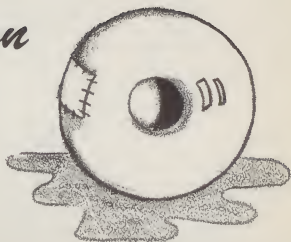

Kenny Kammeyer, the Student Body President, and Shirley Washington, vice-president

There is a certain amount of skill involved in driving an automobile. There is a great deal more skill required to handle the steering wheel of a machine as complex as a High School. It takes a certain brand of people. Corona High has that brand of people. Here on these pages, we do them honor.

"The third piston"

We couldn't run our motor with one piston missing. And—though some of us had our doubts—it just wouldn't be a high school without Sophomores! Below are a typical group of Sophs: Dale Wissner, Shirley Gillespie, Helen Hall, and Bob Garland. Also, scenes from the Soph Assembly.

Band

Corona High is proud of its band. Placing first in their division at the All Western Band Revue in Long Beach for the second year, they are active in state affairs as well as community and school activities. The National City contest was another music festival in which Corona copped honors.

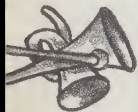

Glee Club

The "Songsters" of CHS again were busy preparing and giving many fine assemblies. The annual Christmas and Easter Assemblies were outstanding features of this vocal group. Also the group did very well at the Redlands Festival.

Saturday, March 7th, 1953.
The Big Night for Corona High,
and the biggest night of high school for lovely Queen Helen Garl. We danced through "Chinatown" to the tunes of Ken Logon's Dance Band. Gaily costumed Chinese girls served us punch and took our hats and coats.

Lemonville Dance

A frosty winter theme pervaded the gym on the night of nights when Lemonville came. After enjoying the play, "Hands Across the Sea," and the unforgettable "Lawd, Does You Undahstan'?" we danced in a "Winter Wonderland."

... and Plays

Junior Play

"See how they run"

Under the direction of Gil Gaier, the class of '54 presented "See How They Run" as this year's Junior play.

The plot concerned an American actress who married an English vicar and retired from the stage. Another American actor and an escaped Russian prisoner helped enliven the play, which ended in a riot of hilarious spiritual contortions.

The Cast

Dennis Bethurum—"Arthur Humphrey", Helen Acker—"Miss Skillon", Allan Schaeenherr—"Lianel Taap", Rannie Bucknum—"Clive Winton", Jean Cartwright—"Penelope Toop", Ida Varse—"Ida", Jim Kelly—"Bishop of Lax", Gary Warsham—"Intruder", Dick Avery—"The Lieutenant"

A New Tradition . . .

Valentine Dance

Continuing for its second year with enough impetus to give birth to a new tradition, the Valentine Dance proved to be a focal point in the social life of the school. The dance, sponsored by the Hi-Tri, was one of the most decorative of the year. It held special entertainment, and tunes from the Chaffey Dance Band.

Seniors Splurge

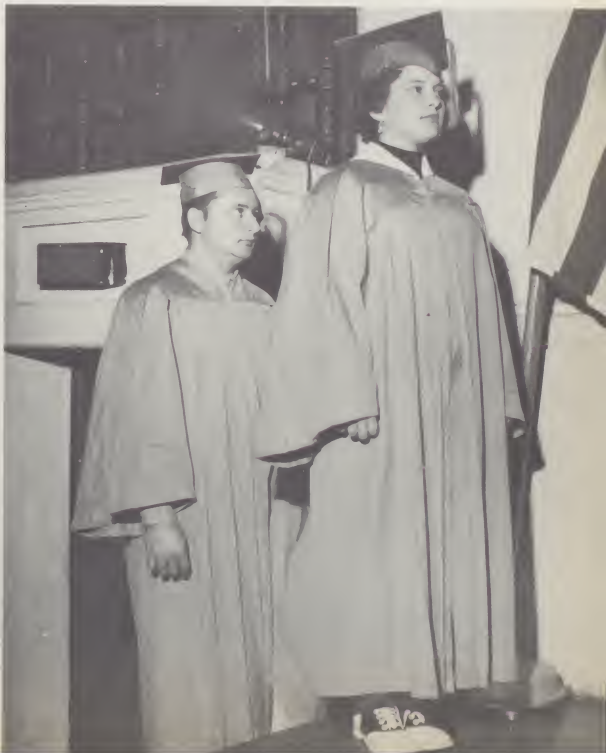

Few Seniors answered roll on the one day of the year they could legally "ditch." Senior Ditch Day, 1953. While some decided to take the quickest way out, other less ambitious grads just flopped down on the patio lawn.

Few Seniors had to resort to the drastic measure of stealing a teacher's car (this one in particular), but they had to find some way to get to the beach or mountains.

Highlighting the year's sports activities was the Fall crowning of La Vonne La Roche as Corona High's Football Queen. La Vonne was given the honor by a vote from the Lettermen. Bonfire rallies, post-game dances, special exhibition games—all combined to round out Corona High's sports life.

Although Panther losses before Coronal press time had been heavy, the boys were steadily improving. Most of their faults, said Coach Roy Merk, had been caused by errors in judgment. Outstanding boys on the mound this year were Paul Miranda, John Ragsdale, and Eddie Lopez. Another baseball natural, Joe Uribe, worked in the outfield.

Dear Diary

- Sept. 15—The lovely, pink doors opened to us.
- Sept. 23—An assembly for those dumb Sophomares and dear newcomers.
- Sept. 26—Our first football game and the first time I saw him. We won the game, but I haven't won him yet.
- Oct. 14—F.F.A. slaughtered their new members.
- Oct. 27—"Paleface" Duane Erway and all his little playmates returned to C.H.S. for our Cananal Assembly.
- Oct. 30—Bay, what a day! We like to tare the roof of the auditorium down screaming for Ike and Adlai.
- Nov. 10—HE DANCED WITH ME TWICE! Oh, La Vanne was our Football Queen.
- Nov. 16—The new members appeared with straight, sober faces at the Hi-Tri Recognition Service this afternoon.
- Nov. 19—"Did you see Larry McNutt's black eye?" "Where did he get it?" "Why, at the Claremont game, of course."
- Nov. 25—Whowy, did I have fun this afternoon. Great sport throwing raw eggs at those new Hi-Tri members.
- Nov. 26—Nope, he didn't ask me to the Tri-County Dance. Darn.
- Dec. 5—"Lawd, Does You Understand?" and "Hands Across the Sea" were the titles of the Lemonville plays. The theme for the dance was "Winter Wonderland." The whole affair was grand, but the most terrible thing happened. He was sick the whole week-end. Couldn't come to anything.
- Jan. 5—We started the new year off by awarding letters to all our deserving athletes.

- Jan. 16—We played a real terrific basketball game tonight. The Latin Club held a dance afterward. He didn't go. I wonder why.
- Jan. 21—Brother, you should have seen Joe Lanzarotta at the Roamer Girls-Faculty game. What a clown! The faculty won, too.
- Jan. 23—Those talented (?) Seniors presented their class assembly, complete with Frankie and Joan, Guirbino's trio, and Martinez' wet-backs.
- Jan. 29—Our cowboys from the Ag barn put on their city duds to take same prizes at a big speaking contest.
- Feb. 4—I got to cast my vote for the Hi-Jinx Court. I hope he realizes how close Hi-Jinx is. Only one month away.

Feb. 5—We got to shaw ayr parents tonight just haw schaal is. My mam and dad were completely exhausted by the time they gat hame. Maybe naw they will believe me.

Feb. 6—Jayaus Juniors joined in the Junior Assembly. What a lucky day that was far me. Gat to miss the Chemistry test I didn't study far.

Feb. 14—I got a new farmol far the Hi-Tri Valentine Dance. He said I looked real gaad in it. Oh, happy day.

Feb. 16—I learned the difference between a bass clorinet and a narmol ane at the band assembly today. Real interesting.

Feb. 23—Through snow, sleet, and rain our belaved band marched at India. Just like the mailmen. Hear tell Dick Velthaen gat stuck with girl's pants for the day.

Mar. 4—After a long delay the Sophamores, with great pride, finally presented their assembly far the Juniors' and Seniors' inspection.

Mar. 6—Prospective Coranal officers boosted their marvelous qualities.

Mar. 7—Queen Helen Garl couldn't have been happier than me about Hi-Jinx when I saw the orchids he gave me.

Mar. 20—He held my hand while Miss Skillin (Helen Acker) gat drunk in the Junior Play. Just acting, of course.

Mar. 23—One manth from the Indio band trip. Band had better luck this time ot the Orange Show parade.

April 10—Our caming Saphies gat real brave and gave their Ninth Grade Play this evening.

April 28—I am still stiff from pedaling my bike ot the Hi-Tri Prograssive Dinner. The old grey more ain't whot she used to be.

May 2—This time I didn't have to sit on pins and needles waiting for him. I cought him for the Sadie Hawkins Day Dance.

May 23—There just isn't enough space here to write all the wanderful things that happened ot the Junior-Senior Prom.

June 4—Seniors, Seniors, Seniors. Senior Class Day Assembly today, Baccalaureate June 7th.

June 8—Sure wish I was a Senior so I could have gane to the Senior Banquet.

June 11—After the Graduation we went to the Palladium, and guess what—Yep, I'm going steady naw. Whaaapeel

Watching the highway behind us

Yes, it's been a pleasant journey, but you have to admit that we're almost out of gas. It's time to stop—and look back. That's our job.

The Coronel Staff has enjoyed being your "Rear-view mirror." It's now time for us to tell everybody what a fine job they did, and sort of pass out the orchids. Well, I don't need to say anything, really. Just take another look through this book. You'll see what I mean. We've seen some hard workers this year. John Ragsdale, strange as it seems, never missed a deadline. Bev Hastings, who often sat up until midnight, sometimes got her space bar confused with her margin release. Carol Lane, at the beginning of the year, had the prodigious job of sorting out and assigning numbers to five hundred and fifty CHS students. Bob Shaw, who turned out to be the most industrious individual on the staff, and Harley Robertson, who ran the rounds with official photographer Rudy Ramos were often seen on Coronel Work. Yes, it's been a pleasant journey, but it's time to re-fuel. We've an even longer trip ahead of us.
